My brother Gabriel and I were hoping for a kitten but our dad wouldn't let us have one because he is allergic. Then one day we went to a cat show. We saw some adorable kittens there. So we adopted two kittens and surprised my dad. My kitten is named Shadow because he is a black on black tabby with black stripes. Gabriel's kitten is Shadow's brother. My dad looked happy when he saw the kittens.

When I got my kitten in October, I had to learn how to take care of him. A baby kitten needs to eat and drink water and learn to use the litter pan. I feed Shadow whenever he is hungry. He has fresh water to drink all day long. When I first got Shadow, I put him in the litter pan when he finished eating and I made him scratch his front paws so he would go to the bathroom.

Shadow has lived with me for five weeks now. I love to pick up Shadow and snuggle with him. He likes our big dogs, Princess and King. Sometimes he eats their dog food. We all love the kittens so much and my dad holds them all the time.
